

Book Club Final Assignment:
Creative Project & Presentation

1. PowerPoint Presentation: Create a PowerPoint that includes 10 pictures that represent the story. Make sure to present the main conflict and any lessons that the character learns as a result. Make sure to highlight the themes and important literary devices from the novel.
2. Create a digital comic strip of approximately fifteen frames, twelve of which must retell the story with illustrations. Make sure to include the key scenes from the novel and provide a verbal explanation about why you chose those scenes. Try using Prezi, PhotoStory, or Comic Life.
3. Newspaper: Create a newspaper that reveals the main events of your novel. Include an “on the scene” report, gossip column, major headline piece, interview, and other possible sections that are unique to your book (Example: obituaries, horoscopes, forecasts, international news).
4. Alternate Ending: Rewrite the ending of the story. Make sure a major character/event is changed. Length: 400 to 500 words.
5. Setting Shift: Place the novel’s plot in a different time and place. Describe the new setting in detail. Make a list of ten things that would change in the novel because of the setting shift.
6. Photo Essay: A hard copy photo book that highlights the themes or important literary devices from the novel. This can be painted, drawn,
7. Song or play: Write and record a song or play that reveals the theme of the novel. Perform 3 key scenes from the novel and provide a verbal explanation about why you chose those scenes.
8. Map: If a journey is important in your novel, or a central location, create a map on which the movements of the characters are plotted and illustrate the map. Written details are also necessary. (This option works best novels where the protagonist travels to diverse locations).
